

Annual Privacy Notice to Customers

At Millville Insurance Company of New York, we do not disclose nonpublic personal information about our customers or former customers except as permitted by law.

We restrict access to nonpublic personal information about you (that we obtain from your account and your agent) to those employees who need to know that information to provide products or services to you or to alert you to new, enhanced or improved products or services that we provide. We maintain physical, electronic and procedural safeguards that comply with federal standards to guard your nonpublic personal information.

Each year we are required to inform you of the type of information collected, the type of information shared, and with whom it is shared. If you wish to receive our current privacy statement, please call us at 1-800-262-8495.
